How still it is here in the woods. The trees stand motionless, as if they do not dare to stir, lest to break the spell. The air hangs quiet as spaces in a marble frieze.

-Archibald Lampman

The hills are shadows, and they flow
from form to form, and nothing stands;
they melt like mist, the solid lands,
like clouds they shape themselves and go

Man is created by thought.
What a man thinks, so he becomes.

Man sows a thought and reaps
an action.

He sows an action and reaps

He sows a habit and reaps

Man has made his own destiny
by his own thinking.

By right thinking he can become

Grow wild according to thy nature, like these sedges and brakes, which will never become english hay. Let the thunder rumble; what if it threaten ruin to farmers' crops? That is not its errand to thee. Take shelter under the cloud, while they flee to carts and sheds. Let not to get a living be thy trade, but thy sport.
Enjoy the land, but own it not.

The Band!

The car has made our cities uninhabitable. It is also the best way to escape them. Hurry and take the road to the roadless area, because it won't be roadless long. Too much demand. The gas pump doesn't know the beauty which it helped to see; and so the gas tax comes pouring in and the pavement comes pouring out. And so we push the big wheel nearer the edge. The land of the free and the home of the auto dump. But man was born to wander.
